

Mission & Vision Statement for the Believer

-- Les Dennis

According to Scripture (1 Corinthians 10:31) the believer is to glorify God in everything. This sounds good, but how can we go about applying this principle to our lives?

The answer is that we need to take this principle as our mission in life. One way to do this is to complete the following statement: "I will do my part to glorify by God by . . ." When completed, this becomes a personal mission statement.

A teacher might say: I will do my part to glorify God by teaching children the basic subjects in school, as well as building their character, so that they may achieve their full God-given potential as adults and be equipped to do His will.

A plumber might say: I will glorify God by being professional and ethical in my work as a plumber, so that I may have a good testimony and meet the needs of my customers, so that they will recognize the hand of God in my life.

You can use the same principle that the teacher and plumber uses to create your own vision statement about how you will accomplish God's will in your life.

© 2013 by Rev. Les Dennis, B.A., D.D. Permission is given to copy this article, if it is copied in its entirety and distributed without charge.

Mission & Vision Statement for the Believer

-- Les Dennis

According to Scripture (1 Corinthians 10:31) the believer is to glorify God in everything. This sounds good, but how can we go about applying this principle to our lives?

The answer is that we need to take this principle as our mission in life. One way to do this is to complete the following statement: "I will do my part to glorify by God by . . ." When completed, this becomes a personal mission statement.

A teacher might say: I will do my part to glorify God by teaching children the basic subjects in school, as well as building their character, so that they may achieve their full God-given potential as adults and be equipped to do His will.

A plumber might say: I will glorify God by being professional and ethical in my work as a plumber, so that I may have a good testimony and meet the needs of my customers, so that they will recognize the hand of God in my life.

You can use the same principle that the teacher and plumber uses to create your own vision statement about how you will accomplish God's will in your life.

© 2013 by Rev. Les Dennis, B.A., D.D. Permission is given to copy this article, if it is copied in its entirety and distributed without charge.